We're Back!

We took a few months off at the start of the school year trying out just publishing this newspaper on the Internet. And we even had students building web pages! But it was just a little too hard to get everybody on the same schedule.

So.... this newspaper is back, the way it has been published for many years. New editions will come out in March, April, May, and June!

Hannah and Keenan

Room 17, Grades 1&2

We are studying the human body. People are coming in to help us with math. We are going on a field trip on April 17 to "Lilly's Plastic Purse".

Riddle:

A man fell off a 10,000 foot ladder. How come he didn't get hurt?

Because he was on the first step!

Kyle and Katie
Room 24, Grade 5

For Valentine's Day our classroom had a party, and we knocked a piñata down. We watched part of "Armageddon" yesterday. I (Katie) brought powdered sugar doughnuts to school for my birthday (and Valentines), and Kyle ate 12 of them!

Today we're doing the writing assessment. We don't think anyone, including us, wants to do the writing assessment.

Puberty night is coming up. Puberty night is only for fifth graders.

Today we might watch the rest of "Armageddon". We're reading a book called The Apprenticeship of Lucas Whittaker.

We went on a field trip to Mercer Slough. We did a bunch of stuff like bug TV. We went hiking. We studied about soil, skates, bugs, and wild animals. The slough is a kind of wetland. We made pizza for Valentine's Day. It was very cool and fun!

Riddle

What did the baby light bulb say to the mommy light bulb?

„I love you watts and watts!“

Jesse and Jaelynn Room 12, Grade 3

We went on a field trip to Chinatown. We got a tour through the fortune cookie factory. Our class and Room 9 ate at the Sun Ya Restaurant. The first thing we did was go to Uwajimaya. After the field trip we came back to school.

Hannah and Sean Rooms 3&4, Kindergarten

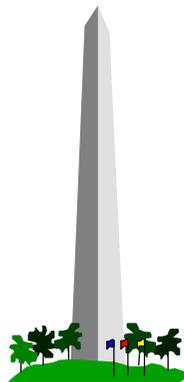

This Monday, on the 100th day, we made 100 necklaces, we wrote 100, and we made a 100 snack.

We learned about wood. We had to smell and feel wood. We made things and painted them. We dyed the wood in colors.

One day we went to a Chinese restaurant. There were a couple of catfish. We got a big bag of cookies. We went to a playground that was shut. We climbed a dragon.

On another trip we went to a creek where they made a salmon wall. They had dead fish. We saw salmon swimming.

We did coins and faces for Presidents' Day.

Washington Monument

Abraham Lincoln

We have made a butterfly plant box and a birdbath for the Auction.

The most fun was we had a Valentine Party. We had a snack of a sundae and cupcakes. We made Valentines and gave them to kids. We could put whatever we wanted on the snacks.

We went to Chinatown on the 10th of February. It was fun. We went to the fortune cookie factory, Uwajimaya, and we went to a Chinese restaurant. I went with my cousin and her family to a restaurant to celebrate the Chinese New Year. The lights kept on going off and on. Her grandma gave me 20 dollars, and her dad gave me 5 dollars.

The groundhog didn't see its shadow. We collected cards and had a party for Valentine's Day. Presidents' Day is when we try to remember our presidents, and we don't go to school. We are working on balls and how good they bounce and roll. We are learning about science. We've been studying the five food groups. We're painting pictures for the auction. We made peanut butter, which was created by George Washington Carver.

Kayla and Mitchell

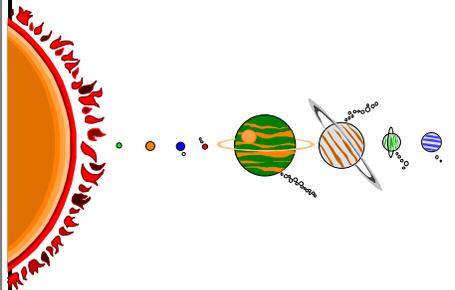

Room 14, Grade 2

For Valentine's Day we made mobiles, made heart animals (mice and cats), made balloon art out of hearts, and gave people Valentine cards.

We went to Mercer Slough on a field trip. We saw fake animal prints and read poems. For Black History Month our teacher read us stories about Martin Luther King Jr.

What do you do when you see an alien?

Give him some space!

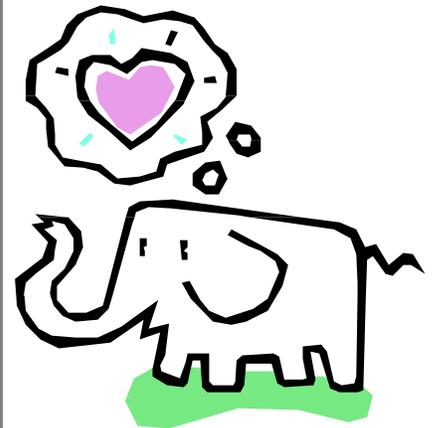

Meredith and Kevin

Room 22, Grade 4

We're doing a review on all the things that we've learned this year. This year we will have an early spring, because the groundhog did not see its shadow.

We made Valentines in class.

They had to have symmetry and congruent shapes on the card, and we had to have a written message.
